

Shared Services Joint Group Terms of Reference

South Cambridgeshire District Council (SCDC), Huntingdonshire District Council (HDC) and Cambridge City Council (CCC), have formally agreed to establish a partnership in order to take forward a number of shared services in a phased manner.

The aim of the shared services is to protect key services and build resilience whilst retaining local control and sovereignty for the three councils.

The three councils will therefore remain as separate entities and maintain their own decision-making routes. The partnership will therefore be developed on an equitable basis, recognising that each authority has strengths in particular services but that each also faces specific challenges.

The governance structure as outlined in the Partnership Agreement and the diagram below, will include a Member Joint Group, a senior officer Partnership Board and a Management Board led by Corporate Directors.

Guiding Principles of shared working

The Councils will:

- Work in a way that encourages mutual respect, openness and trust
- Commit to the successful achievement of the shared services
- Operate in a transparent and clearly accountable manner
- Share investment costs and benefits gained, proportionate to their budget contribution
- Work constructively together to manage key strategic risks
- Adopt the necessary internal changes to enable them to work effectively with the new Shared Service organisation
- Undertake to resolve any conflicts through appropriate governance arrangements with a view to maintaining strong relationships
- Be governed by the Partnership Agreement that forms the basis of clear, binding, contractual arrangements between partner councils
- Develop a framework for service charging, service levels and customer compliance
