A1. Evidence of Lead-In Times, Lapse Rates, Build Out Rates and Windfalls

A1.1. The Councils have developed typical assumptions for lead-in times, build out rates, and lapse rates. The methodologies used to develop each of these typical assumptions and the Councils' typical assumptions are set out in Appendix C (of the Main Document). Detailed information used to develop these typical assumptions is set out in the figures included in this document.

Lead-in Times for sites of 10 dwellings or more (net)

- A1.2. For sites of 10 dwellings or more (net), the Councils have collated data for 55 sites on the lead-in times from validation of a planning application through to the first housing completions being recorded on the site. The sites are all sites included in the previously published housing trajectory and any sites where planning permission has been permitted since the previously published housing trajectory, and the site is either under construction or completed.
- A1.3. The Councils monitoring of whether a planning permission is either under construction or completed is carried out annually after the 31 March each year, and therefore the exact month in which the first housing completion occurred or construction started on the first dwelling is not known. This has prevented the Council from calculating the exact lead-in times for each of the 55 sites considered. Instead, the calculation of the lead-in time for each site has been made from the date of validation or approval of a planning application to the end of the monitoring year (31 March) in which the first dwellings were under construction or the first housing completions were recorded.
- A1.4. Five of the 55 sites considered have been excluded from the calculations used to determine typical lead-in times, as the length of time from validation of a planning application to the first dwellings being under construction or completed was abnormally long due to site specific reasons. These five sites are identified in Figure 14 (in Appendix C of the Main Document) and the reasons for excluding each site are identified.

A1.5. Figures A1-2 to A1-5 (below) summarise the results of the calculations of lead-in times for the 50 sites considered. The rows highlighted in green are those the Councils consider appropriate to use to determine typical assumptions, and the reasons for this are set out in paragraphs C.8 to C.19 (in Appendix C of the Main Document).

Build Out Rates for sites of 10 dwellings or more (net)

A1.6. For non-strategic sites of 10 dwellings or more (net), the Councils have collated data on the build out rates of 92 sites, where the development or parcel of a larger development, was wholly completed between 1 April 2011 and 31 March 2019. Any strategic sites or major developments have been excluded, as these sites have been considered separately and also their individual build out rates are recorded, along with any observations, as part of the site commentary set out in Appendix B (of the Main Document).

A1.7. Detailed information on the build out rates for each of the sites considered is set out in Figures A1-6 and A1-7 (below).

A2. Completed Questionnaires and Emails

- A2.1. For all allocations in the Councils' adopted Local Plans and Area Action Plans, and all developments on unallocated sites of 10 dwellings or more (net) with planning permission or a resolution to grant planning permission by either of the Councils' planning committees, a letter and questionnaire was sent to the housebuilder, developer, landowner or agent for the site. The questionnaire asked them: to provide details on whether the site is deliverable in terms of its availability, suitability and achievability; their expected delivery timetable for the site; and also to tell us the reasons for any actual or possible future delays in delivery.
- A2.2. The majority of the questionnaires were sent out in March and April 2019, with some additional questionnaires sent out in subsequent months as additional sites were permitted or alternative landowner, developer or housebuilder details were found, and completed questionnaires were returned between March and July 2019. The Councils sent out the questionnaires by email or post (depending on the information available) and followed up responses through several reminder emails and telephone calls. Some additional information or updated questionnaires have been received in October 2019.
- A2.3. Copies of each of the completed questionnaires or emails received are included in this document, and the date received is included on each. Some of the information provided by the housebuilders, developers, landowners or agents in their completed questionnaires has been redacted due to that information being identified as commercially sensitive or personal information.
